PADA Launches New Website

(Jefferson, WI) People Against Domestic & Sexual Abuse (PADA) of Jefferson County, Inc. launched a brand new website today at www.padajc.org. The website is in both English and Spanish and has information on domestic abuse, sexual assault, volunteer opportunities, current events, PADA, and much, much more.

“We are just thrilled to be offering a new website to the community,” said Lindsay Blumer, executive director of PADA, “At www.padajc.org everyone can get information quickly and easily.” The website was designed by Perry Tinsley owner of Media Paws, a multimedia design company based in Fort Atkinson. “We were lucky to be working with such a great designer who helped us find PADA’s voice on the web and who was willing to donate many hours to make it a success,” said Blumer.

The website will have the latest events and news about PADA and issues/articles related to domestic abuse and sexual assault. It will also be the source for information for domestic abuse and sexual assault services provided by PADA and how to contact advocates for help or to request a speaker. “We wanted to create a safe space that helped the community and victims/survivors learn about domestic abuse and sexual assault as well as access resources and find out more about us,” said Blumer, “We encourage everyone to visit www.padajc.org and bookmark it in their web browser!”

PADA’s mission is to provide advocacy and options to victims of domestic abuse and sexual abuse, educate the community, and utilize coordinated community efforts to end domestic and sexual abuse. Last year PADA took almost 1,000 crisis calls and served over 500 clients. For more information about PADA or the services they provide please contact PADA at 920-674-6748 or visit them on the web at www.padajc.org.
